Executive Summary

The USC Forensics Department (USCFD) conducted this forensic analysis on a personal hard disk for Earl Mustard and Craig S. L. Isht's computers and a seized USB part of the investigation. This investigation occurred after 81 CSAM files were found on Craig's computer inside the Program Files (x68) directory, which contained CSAM images across folders within the directory named Apple Mail, Internet Explorer, Macrosoft, Macrosoft.NET, Mozilla Service Later, Uncommon Files, and Windows Seashell. The forensic image analysis also showed a USB was plugged into Craig's computer on 8/18/2023 at 3:04:43 UTC.

After Craig was interviewed by the police he denied any knowledge of acquiring the CSAM and informed the police he was having issues with his computer and hired Earl Mustard to help him with his slow computer, he also informed the police that after getting Earl's help he would see his mouse moving alone. This led to the forensic analysis of Earl Mustard's computer which also contained 81 CSAM files which were also located in the Program Files (x68) directory within the following folders: Apple Mail, Internet Explorer, Macrosoft, Macrosoft.NET, Mozilla Service Later, Uncommon Files and Windows Seashell. After examining the prefetch files of Earl Mustard there was a team viewer set up executable named TEAMVIEWER_SETUP_X64.EXE created and last run on 8/6/2023 at 7:39:26 AM UTC.

Once both images were analyzed the email history between Craig and Earl was reviewed and displayed Craig reaching out to Earl Mustard since he was referred to him by Ms. Wanda Wheaton to help fix his slow computer, they had a series of emails which led to Earl Mustard sending Craig a USB to his home and instructing him to plug it in and download the "Windows_Update.exe" file on the USB and to inform him his Team Viewer ID after he downloads the software which Craig does and sends him the ID on 8/18/2023 3:27 UTC.

The Windows_Update.exe sent by Earl Mustard to Craig had its hash 0dc3b0b96c219351fe0dbf776d2566b3 analyzed on virus total and was found to be TeamViewer_Setup_x641. The USB was also analyzed by recovering its deleted partition and contained 104 CSAM files inside of the deleted partition of the FAT 32 system of the USB. The CSAM files on both Craig and Earl's machines match the hashes of the CSAM found on the USB.

After Craig ran the "Windows_Update.exe" file from the USB on his computer on 8/18/2023 at 3:19:17 AM UTC the team viewer file of Craig which contained an incoming connection text file showed that Earl Mustard established a remote access control connection to Craig's computer on 18-08-2023 at 03:31:38 UTC proximity eleven minutes after "Windows_Update.exe" was run on Craig's computer. The CSAM files on both Craig and Earl's computers have the same created date and time starting at 2023-08-06 06:33:52 UTC but the change time of the CSAM files on Craig's Machine happened on 2023-08-18 03:36:19 UTC which is the time after he ran Windows_Update.exe" and during the time of Earl Mustard's second remote access control session that occurred on 2023-08-18 from 03:32:56 to 03:54:35 UTC.

Program Files directory: The Program Files directory is used for storing the device's legitimate software; placing other files here could be an attempt to hide such files.
Hash : a unique number to identify a file
TeamViewer_Setup_x641: software downloaded on a computer that allows a person to establish remote control access to any other computer

3.Examination & Findings

3a. CSAM Files & Web History

During this investigation, the contents of Craig's computer, Earl's Computer, and the seized USB were inspected. Inside Craig's Computer, there were 81 files of CSAM found. The CSAM files were found inside of the Program Files (x68) folder which contained 11 other folders: Apple Mail which had 11 CSAM images, Internet Explorer which had 12 CSAM images, Microsoft folder which had 9 CSAM images, Macrosoft.NET which had 10 CSAM images, Mozilla Service Later which had 12 CSAM images, Team Uninstaller which had 4 CSAM images, Uncommon Files Folder which had 9 CSAM images and Windows Seashell which contained 14 CSAM images.

Inside Earl's computer, there were 81 CSAM files found. The CSAM files were found inside of the Program Files (x68) folder which contained 11 other folders: Apple Mail which had 11 CSAM images, Internet Explorer which had 12 CSAM images, Microsoft folder which had 9 CSAM images, Macrosoft.NET which had 10 CSAM images, Mozilla Service Later which had 12 CSAM images, Team Uninstaller which had 4 CSAM images, Uncommon Files Folder which had 9 CSAM images and Windows Seashell which contained 14 CSAM images.

The CSAM files MD5 and SHA1 hashes revealed that there were 58 unique images of CSAM while 23 of the CSAM files were duplicates for both Earl and Craig.

Inside of the seized USB where 104 CSAM files were found. The CSAM files that were found were part of a deleted partition on the FAT 32 system and to retrieve them the partition needed to be recovered which was done by noting the end of the NTFS system which marks the start of the USB system which FAT 32 and that was recorded in the Bookmark Sector: 116127743. Once the deleted part was recovered there were eight files: Internet Explorer, Microsoft, Microsoft.NET, Mozilla Maintenance Service, Mozilla Service Later, System Volume Information, Teams Installer, and Windows Mail. Inside the Internet Explorer file were 12 CSAM files, the Microsoft file contained a file named Team Uninstaller with 4 CSAM files in the folder, it had another file named Mozilla Service later with 12 CSAM files, another folder named Macrosoft.NET with 10 CSAM folders, another folder named Microsoft with 9 CSAM files, another folder named Internet Explorer with 12 CSAM files, another folder named Apple Mail with 11 CSAM files. The folder itself also had 8 CSAM files. The Microsoft.NET folder had 10 CSAM files. The Mozilla Maintenance Service folder had 12 CSAM files. The Mozilla Service Later file was empty, the System Volume Information folder had no CSAM files. The Teams Installer file had 3 CSAM files. The Windows Mail folder had 11 CSAM files.

It is also important to note that tax return CSAM files (appendix refer to Earl & Craig's CSAM) are apparent on both machines but not on the USB and that was because they were copied and renamed from the USB since the hashes of those files match ones on the USB such as tax return 2014.xlsx (on Craig and Earls Machine) being named 6241a5fddbab1_vxlvdm55qb811__700.jpg (on USB).

Earl Mustard investigated search history was also investigated through the following path C:\Users\earlm\AppData\Local\Google\Chrome\UserData\Default\History

3b. Email History

After Craig and Earls's computer images were analyzed and found to have the same number of CSAM files. The email history of Craig was parsed through and was found using the following path C:\Users\craig\AppData\Local\Microsoft\Outlook\craigslisht@outlook.com.ost.

The email history of Craig revealed that on 8/1/2023 at 23:14 UTC Craig emailed Earl Mustard “Hello Colonel, Please be okay. I do not know if you are aware, but I wrote and sent an email to you last week. Here are the contents to refresh your memory: “Hello Mr. Earl Mustard, I come to you today with an URGENT inquiry. I was given your contact information from Ms. Wanda Wheaton. She claims that you are the cheapest in the biz. I need my computer repaired as soon as possible; it is running super slow for an unknown reason. Please reply with the utmost urgency, as I cannot stress enough how much I need my computer's performance to improve. My name is Craig S. L. Isht. With Warm and Kind Regards, Craig" To reiterate my request, I need your computer assistance. Please help me ASAP (As Soon As Possible). With Regards That Can Be Characterized As Warm and Kind, Craig S." (refer to appendix email history #1)

After a series of emails exchanged between both individuals that consisted of Earl Mustard asking questions regarding Craig's computer as to its Operating system, RAM, CPU, and storage information (refer to appendix email history #2), Earl Mustard informs Craig that he will be sending him a USB stick and will provide him further information of what to do with it once he receives it (refer to appendix email history #6). After Craig receives the USB and informs Earl Mustard on 8/18/2023 at 3:18 UTC Earl Mustard sends to Craig "Hello Craig, There is a file named "Windows_Updates" on the USB. It is to make sure that your device is updated. Please double click on it and run that. If it runs successfully, you should see an ID and password at the end. Please tell me what those are. Try to avoid any further idiocrasies. Best, Earl Mustard Sent from Mail for Windows" (refer to appendix email history #10). Following that on 8/18/2023 at 3:27 UTC Craig sent an email to Earl Mustard saying "Hi Early, Here is the information you requested. Here is my TeamViewer ID number and connection password. Please use them to start a remote support session with me. TeamViewer ID: 1 987 411 375 Your Password: a59k3k8j Biz, C. S. L. Isht Sent from Mail for Windows" (refer to appendix email history #11).

3c. "Windows_Updates"

After learning about the Windows_Updates program it was investigated using virustotal.com which revealed that Windows_Updates.exe is actually the TeamViewer_Setup_x641.exe which is an application that allows users to completely access and control another computer from anywhere. It can be used for malicious purposes since if it's downloaded on a user's system without their knowledge it gives their attacker complete access to their system, meaning they can copy and take files and do any operation on the system and it can be configured in a way that keeps the attacker having persistent access to the system.

File Hash MD5 : 0dc3b0b96c219351fe0dbf776d2566b3

File Path: C:\Users\earlm\Downloads\Windows_Updates.exe

After using Virus Total it said no security vendors flagged this file as malicious and according to the signature verification it has a valid signature. It also mentioned common names that were submitted for the file are the following: Windows_Updates.exe

3d. Team Viewer Sessions

After Craig provided Earl Mustard with the Team Viewer number and that he had downloaded "Windows_Updates". The Team Viewer file on Craig's computer was inspected with the following path C:\ProgramFiles\TeamViewer\Connections_incoming.txt. This revealed 4 incoming remote access control sessions established by Earl Mustard to Craig (refer to appendix Team Viewer Sessions). The first session that was established from Earl Mustard to Craig was on 18-08-2023 03:31:38 UTC which was 4 minutes after Craig emailed Earl Mustard the Team Viewer Number since he emailed it on 8/18/2023 3:27 UTC.

Also during Earl Mustard's second remote access control session to Craig's device which occurred from 18-08-2023 03:32:56 UTC to 18-08-2023 03:54:35 UTC, it falls within the change time of the first CSAM file on Craig's computer which changed at 2023-08-18 03:36:19 UTC and the name of the file is 06_14-816x1024.jpg.

3e. Craig USB connection time and Windows_Update.exe run time

To confirm that when Windows_Update.exe was run which established a Team Viewer set up on Craig's computer by Earl Mustard the time that Craig connected to the USB was observed using the following path C:\Windows\INF\setupapi.dev.log which revealed that the USB was plugged into Craig's computer on 8/18/2023 3:04:43 UTC and Windows_Update.exe was run on the Craig's system on 8/18/2023 3:19:17 AM UTC. This presents that 15 minutes after the USB was plugged in Windows_Update.exe was run on Craig's Computer.

3f. Windows_Update.exe location on USB

The USB image was investigated to make sure that the Windows_Update.exe was located on the USB and was found inside of volume 2 which was not part of the deleted partition. Windows_Update.exe can be found with the path C:\Windows_Updates.exe. It is important to note that this executable file was created on 06/08/2023 at 07:50:33 UTC which was prior to the date that Craig acquired the USB which was on 8/18/2023 at 3:04:43 UTC.

Hidden Partitions: sections of a computer's storage (such as a hard drive or SSD) that are concealed/hidden from the operating system and the user. Material can be hidden in these partitions, and encrypted as well.
NTFS File: New Technology file system is a file system by Microsoft for Windows operating system.
FAT32 File: File allocation table 32 file systems are typically used on USBs due to their wide system limit of 4 GB.

Investigative Leads & Recommendations

Investigative Leads:

1.Investigation of Ms. Wanda Wheaton
It would be recommended to interview and find out more about the identity of Ms.Wanda Wheaton to understand why she referred Craig to Earl Mustard and to identify why she believes Earl Mustard was the best fit to help Craig with his slow computer. It would also be helpful to investigate her to see if she has any ties into where the CSAM was originally acquired if she is acquainted with Earl Mustard and could tell us more about his expertise with computers, and to see if she is also in the business of helping people out with their computers by sending USB's and asking for people to download executables the same way Earl Mustard did.
2. The Origin of the CSAM Files
It would be recommended to examine how the CSAM files were acquired, what devices captured the images, and if the images got on the computer through connecting the computer to a sim card or a camera or was through online/website exchange. This can be further investigated by looking into devices connected with both computers aside from USB such as memory cards and image-earning devices.
3. The potential existence of other USB devices
It would be recommended to look into Earl Mustard's other owned USB devices and to scan them for any more CSAM, or duplications of CSAM from this investigation. It would also be useful to see if there are any other executables on the USB if they exist, with other executables that are renamed the same way "Windows_Update.exe" was renamed instead of it being called what it truly is which is TeamViewer_Setup_x641.exe.

Recommendations:

In terms of this case, it is recommended that users only get computer help from reputable companies and resources such as IT offices in a person's school or work company and not from people on the internet. It is also recommended that users have endpoint detection and response tools from Crowdstrike for example which monitor unusual activity on devices and give the user context about activity occurring on their devices.

Another recommendation would be utilizing software like Proof print which detects malicious links and attachments that happen during phishing attack attempts. It is also important for users to attend technological information sessions that can be found anywhere online that teach users about internet safety and the dangers of downloading random or unverified software from the internet. Most importantly it is recommended that Cybercrime units be informed of any possession of CSAM even if not acquired by yourself to conduct forensic examinations, find the source, and prevent CSAM from being spread, owned, or shared amongst people.

Conclusions

To conclude this investigation occurred because CSAM files were originally found on Craig's computer but after Craig informed the police that he hired someone online named Earl Mustard to help him with his slow computer, he was informed by Earl Mustard to download an executable named "Windows_Updates.exe" from a USB that Earl Mustard sent him. Earl Mustard also asked Craig to send him his team viewer ID and password after downloading the executable which was found to be TeamViewer_Setup_x641.exe.

Although both devices had the same number of CSAM and the USB also contained CSAM and the "Windows_Updates.exe". This investigation occurred to analyze Craig's computer in conjunction with Earl's computer to understand how Craig ended up having CSAM on his computer since he denied any knowledge of it. After investigating all three devices it is important to note that Earl Mustard established four remote control access sessions to Craig's computer after the "Windows_Updates.exe" was run on Craig's computer on 8/18/2023 at 3:19:17 AM UTC. It is also important to note that Craig and Earl Mustard had through email conversations where Craig shared with Earl Mustard that he followed Craig's requests to download the executable and Craig gave Earl Mustard his teamviewer ID and password. It is also important to note that the CSAM across both computers was created on 2023-08-06 and only changed on 2023-08-18 on Craig's computer which is the day he ran "Windows_Updates.exe" while on earls machine the change date remains the same as 2023-08-06. It is also important to note that the CSAM files creation date of 2023-08-06 was before Craig obtained the USB which was 8/18/2023 and it was plugged in at exactly 3:04:43 UTC.

I do not know if you are aware, but I wrote and sent an email to you last week. Here are the contents to refresh your memory: “Hello Mr. Earl Mustard, I come to you today with an urgent inquiry. I was given your contact information from Ms. Wanda Wheaton. She claims that you are the cheapest in the biz. I need my computer repaired as soon as possible; it is running super slow for an unknown reason. Please reply with the utmost urgency, as I cannot stress enough how much I need my computer's performance to improve. My name is Craig S. L. Isht. With Warm and Kind Regards, Craig” To reiterate my request, I need your computer assistance. Please help me ASAP (As Soon As Possible). With Regards That Can Be Characterized As Warm and Kind, Craig S.

2	earl.mustard@outlook.com	craigslisht@outlook.com	8/1/2023 23:21	RE: URGENT - Please respond ASAP	Hello Craige, I can help you. Please answer these questions: 1. What operating system do you have? 2. What is your computer's RAM, CPU, and Storage information? 3. What is running slow specifically? 4. Have you done any unusual activity recently? -Earl
3	craigslisht@outlook.com	earl.mustard@outlook.com	8/1/2023 23:29	RE: URGENT - Please respond ASAP	Dearest Earl, My name is Craig. Not Craige. Thank you. To answer your questions succinctly: 1. Windows 11 2. Processor: 11th Gen Intel(R) Core(TM) i7-1165G7 @ 2.80GHz, 2803 Mhz, 1 Core(s), 1 Logical Processor(s) RAM: Installed Physical Memory (RAM) 14.9 GB Storage Information: 16.3 GB 3. All of my applications are running slow. My mouse is super slow. Nothing loads. 4. I have only done my usual browsing of the interweb. The only regular site I visit is a religious site. Please let me know if you have any further questions to ask of me. Bless you. Farewell, C. S. L. I. Sent from Mail for Windows

It is to make sure that your device is updated. Please double click on it and run that. If it runs successfully, you should see an ID and password at the end. Please tell me what those are. Try to avoid any further idiocrasies. Best, Earl Mustard Sent from Mail for Windows

My computer is still running a bit slow…What else should I do? What else can you do? Yours Truly, Isht Mustard, My computer is still running slow, and I can no longer open the mail app, so I had to buy and download Outlook. What is going on? Please help. Isht
